Dear Ms. Harker,

Selections from Whitewash and Case Open were published by Carroll & Graf and are available in book stores. As of my last knowledge, they were to publish Never Again! in September and it then also will be in the stores.

The longer and more detailed version of Case Open is not published commercially and I believe never will be. There is nothing I can do about it.

When the typing is completed a copy will be ~~despo~~ deposited at two universities for those who wish to examine it. It will not be possible for me to do the xeroxing and to seal copies of a manuscript of about 200,000 words. I am 81 and in impaired health.

All that we can make available is the books I published. A list of them in enclosed.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
